Risk Warning

The VPS service is offered by a third-party service provider. MEGA FUSION is not responsible for any trading losses, delays, or connectivity issues arising from VPS systematic errors or service disruptions. Customers are advised to address any technical issues directly with the VPS provider. Utilizing a VPS for CFD trading does not eliminate the inherent risks, including the potential for significant capital loss.

Trading in foreign exchange (Forex) and contracts for difference (CFDs) involves significant risk and may result in substantial losses, including the loss of more than your initial investment due to the leveraged nature of these products. Forex and CFD trading may not be suitable for all investors, and it is essential to fully understand the risks involved. Before engaging in trading, carefully consider your investment objectives, level of experience, and risk tolerance. Past performance does not guarantee future results, and you are advised to seek independent financial advice if needed. Additionally, ensure compliance with all applicable local laws and regulations before trading.
